

TWO YOUNG MEN INJURED; THREE CARS AND AMBULANCE ARE DAMAGED IN TWO ACCIDENTS IN THE BRISTOL AREA; MAIL BOXES, FIRE ALARM BOX AND UTILITY POLE SMASHED

Residents of the Bristol-Radcliffe Street Section Aroused Early This Morning When Two Youths Smash Into Parked Car, Utility Pole, Fence and Tree — Both Miraculously Escape Death.

Two young men were injured, three cars and an ambulance damaged and damage done to other property in two auto accidents in this area yesterday afternoon and this morning.

In the accident here in which the two young men were hurt, the car in which they were riding was smashed to a shambles, a fire alarm box broken into bits, utility pole split, street signs and standard snapped off and twisted, street mail box and carrier relay mail box broken into small pieces, letters scattered to the four winds, iron fence twisted like a pretzel, and another car damaged.

The Bristol accident happened at 12:38 this morning when a car driven by William E. Webb, Jr., Newportville road, Bristol township, sideswiped the parked car of Joseph A. Dunn, 1114 Radcliffe street. The Dunn car was considerably damaged on the left side and the tires flattened. It was parked on the south side of Radcliffe street, facing east just west of Bristol street.

The injured: Webb, laceration of right jaw, abrasions of right cheek, lower lip split, and abrasions of hands and legs. Returned from Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, to his home.

Robert Litz, 20, 9 Totem road, Croydon, fracture of right leg, detained at hospital for further examination.

The accident occurred at Bristol and Radcliffe streets, when the Webb car sideswiped the Dunn car. The Dunn car continued on until it struck a utility pole on the northeast corner of Bristol street. The pole was knocked over against a tree and the two mail boxes between the pole and the tree were smashed into small pieces. Letters and other mail were tossed about and were gathered up from all parts of the Webb car on which many of them had alighted.

Jumping the curb, the Webb car struck the street sign standard and then the rear end of the machine leaped around into the iron fence of the property of Edmund Reardon, 1300 Radcliffe street, which folded up in semi-accordion fashion. The top of the car hit fire alarm box.

COMMITTEE ON HEALTH, WELFARE IS "PACE-SETTER"

Lower Bucks Organization Has Big Task in "Pointing Up" Needs

"PREVENTIVE" WORK

Members Engaged in Checking Questionnaires Sent to Groups

Lower Bucks County Citizens Committee on Health and Welfare Needs, which was formed last month (members of which anticipate a big task in "pointing up" needs in this highly industrialized and fast-growing section of the county) is busily engaged in checking over organization survey questionnaires recently broadcast among organizations in lower Bucks.

The Lower Bucks Citizens Committee, which has been termed by some of its officers as a "pace-setting" organization, has had several meetings since it was organized early in August. The organization was brought into being mainly because several active business men and representatives of welfare groups foresaw the needs along the lines of health, welfare and recreation, which they knew would continue to grow with increased manufacturing and building activity in this section of the county.

"It is more or less of a 'preventive' proposition," stated one of the officials today, as he mentioned

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA — Tank-led U. S. troops pressed a major new assault against stiff resistance in west-central Korea today while a Red mass surrender ruse was smashed and a key hill captured in the east. American Marines on the rugged eastern front pushed a North Korean regiment off a 3,000-foot mountain Friday after a four-day battle. In the west-central sector two giant armored columns from three American divisions jumped off at dawn above Kumhwa in a twin-pronged offensive stroke toward the enemy's big base of Kumsong, northeast of the "iron triangle."

Pennsylvanians Must Join With Others in U. S. To Fight Tragedy

AID REHABILITATION

A growing problem confronting Pennsylvania is State care for the increasing number of narcotics users. The current Legislature will be asked to consider House Bill 792 calling for treatment of drug addicts in State institutions. Rep. Louis Sax (R) Philadelphia, who co-authored the measure with Rep. George J. Sarraf (D) Pittsburgh, explains the need for enactment in the following exclusive article written for International News Service.

By Rep. Louis Sax, Pennsylvania Legislature (Written Especially for I. N. S.) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Dope addiction is the greatest menace to the youth of Pennsylvania.

We must join with other sections of the country in helping to rehabilitate drug addicts, especially among youth.

Under House Bill 792, when the addict is self-committed, he will receive complete medical and psychiatric care instead of imprisonment.

Imprisonment usually causes a narcotics user to become belligerent, indifferent and an easy victim to drug pushers after release. One of the features of the Bill is that it allows the patients to pay

ELIZABETH AND PHILIP TERMED IDEAL COUPLE

Both Work Hard; Have Many of Problems That Beset Any Young Pair

AN INCOME OF $140,000

This is the final article in a series providing a closeup of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip in advance of their visit next month to Canada and the U. S.

By John E. Carlowa (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) LONDON, Sept. 21.—(INS)—Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip are described by their intimates as an "ideal young couple, obviously in love and wrapped up in their children."

Both work hard. Royal duties often can be onerous. And it can be assumed they have many of the problems that beset any young married couple.

Basically, of course, in their family life, they have a head start over most young married people. They have no money or job worries. Their futures are set and secure. They need have no fears or doubts as to what may become of their children.

Still, their closest friends insist, the heiress presumptive to the British throne and her husband have much in common with average couples. According to servants at Clarence House, Philip has been known to "roll up his sleeves and help out around the place." And Elizabeth in the family circle is more mother than princess.

The couple moved into Clarence

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The twelve members of the North Atlantic Council approved a recommendation for the entry of Greece and Turkey into the alliance at the closing session of its Ottawa meeting yesterday. A secret protocol withdrawing the North Atlantic defense area so that Greece and Turkey and the entire Mediterranean Sea would be included is expected to be approved soon by the governments of the Council members.

The Council's technical experts are studying the formation of an international fund to provide long-term financing to member countries unable to meet the costs of rearmament from current income.

General Eisenhower was reported seeking a 33 per cent rise in European military production during the 1952 fiscal year.

In the wake of the announcement by the Communist high command of its willingness to resume negotiations for an armistice in the Korean war, the early resumption of those negotiations was considered a virtual certainty. An information bulletin released by General Ridgway's headquarters said there was reason "to hope that the latest Communist reversal in policy and agreement to renew peace talks may bring some sort of cease-fire in Korea."

West Germany signed a new international trade agreement with Communist-dominated East Germany that becomes effective when East German authorities remove the present tax on trucks moving along the autobahn between West Germany and West Berlin.

President Truman said this country wanted peace and meant to preserve peace by making itself mighty.

In a letter to Vice-President Barkley, Mr. Truman appealed for Senate action to raise the levies in the tax bill now before that body to make the measure provide revenue "that approaches as nearly as possible that $10,000,000,000 I recommended."

Questions concerning the loyalty record of Ambassador at Large Jessup, who has been again named by Mr. Truman to the United Nations delegation to the United Nations, were raised by Chairman McCarran of the Senate subcommittee on internal security.

By voice vote the House approved three bills that would allow cost-of-living pay raises of $400 to $800 annually to 1,600,000 Federal employees.

The Senate committee investigating the award of $645,000 loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to a Missouri printing firm was told by a company official that his firm had paid $65,878 in fees to four men while they were still on the Government's payroll.

Helen Greenberg, of Bristol twp., administratrix of the Estate of Harry Greenberg, deceased, has been named the defendant in an action in trespass by John J. Griffin, Linden, N. J. Letters of administration in the estate of Harry Greenberg were granted in June, 1948, in Northampton county.

The plaintiff's truck was parked on the highway at Avenel, N. J., June 23, 1948, when a vehicle, operated by Robert Hall for the defendant, figured in a crash with it.

Joseph A. Reinhardt, 1337 Dixon ave., Croydon, has named his wife, Rose, 2640 Memphis st., Phila., the defendant in a libel in divorce. They were married May 26, 1917, in New York City by a judge of courts. Gladys Paula Harrow, 1829 Taft ave., Hollywood, California, is being sued for a divorce by her husband, Alexander W. Harrow, Hilltown township, Fricks. They were united in marriage Sept. 29, 1942, and separated Nov. 5, 1943.

Fire Started by Boy Could Have Been Serious

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 21—A blaze, said to have been started by a small boy, could have been most serious, according to local officials. Thousands of dollars worth of cloth for manufacture of trousers were endangered at a fire at a manufacturing plant and Penna. Testing Laboratory in the Molloy building, yesterday morning.

The fire was started by a child who is said to have imitated a neighbor he watched burning refuse. Alertness of clerks in a department store averted a serious fire, it is said.

The large doors on the stone building had paint scorched.

The child is said to have attempted to burn boxes previously.

SLOT MACHINE CASE IN COURT FOR JURY TRIAL

Devices Placed in Evidence From West Rockhill Township

IN HANDS OF SHERIFF

State Police Tell Jury About Raid on Establishment

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 21—Six slot machines were offered in evidence Wednesday in the case of Carl F. Schnabel, West Rockhill township real estate agent, in Judge Hiram H. Keller's court.

Schnabel is charged with setting up a gambling establishment and causing a gambling establishment to be set up in a barn on his property on the Allentown road between Ridge Valley and Trumbauersville, about four miles away from the Quakertown sub-station of State Police.

The "one-armed bandits" that have been in the custody of the Sheriff since they were seized in a raid by State Police, were transported to the court room as evidence only, where the jury could view the machines—one fifty-center, one twenty-five-center, two ten-centers, and two nickel machines.

Sgt. John Swann, commanding officer of the Quakertown sub-station, testified that on information received from the District Attorney's office he and Trooper Stephen David Davidock went to the Schnabel farm home the early evening of August 9th and entered the barn.

Inside, on the first floor, the troopers found, in a recreation room, the six "slotless" on a shelf along one of the walls of the barn. There was also a ping-pong board in the room, an old piano, chairs and an electric light that was turned on.

Sgt. Swann described the room as being about 25 feet by 30 feet in dimension.

The "slotless" were seized, the witness said, and turned over to Chief County Detective Fred I. Kohler to be held for the trial. Schnabel, who conducts a real estate business in his office near the barn, was arrested the same night.

Under cross-examination Sgt. Swann said that he had never received any previous complaints about the Schnabel farm having "slotless," until the one that he received from the District Attorney's office.

Trooper Davidock, of the Quakertown sub-station, testified that he accompanied Sgt. Swann to the

PROBING AIR CRASHES

The Navy has a good airplane it calls the PB4Y, or Privateer. It is the Navy version of the Consolidated-made Liberator of proven worth as a long-range bomber in both the European and the Pacific theaters in World War II.

The Privateer is the Lib with the regular four engines and the fuselage but not the double tail assembly. It has a single huge tail fin and rudder about as high as a four-story building.

What the Privateer will do is to take off in the morning at first light, go out 800 or 1,000 miles, make a dogleg of 200 miles, and return to base in time for evening chow.

These long-range patrol bombers based in 1945 at Clark Field in the Philippines, for example, fanned out to blockade the South China Sea from Formosa clear down to Indo-China.

That was tropical flying. Sub-Arctic flying is something else. Fog and cold put even greater strains on men and aircraft. The report comes that in the Alaska area, during the past few weeks, four Privateers have crashed killing 45 men.

Since July, the Navy says, nine other naval and Air Force planes have crashed in that region. But apparently it is the Privateers—on long reconnaissance flights toward Siberia—that have encountered the most trouble, whatever the causes may be.

The Navy says they crashed. Apparently they weren't shot down by the Russians, as it is assumed was the fate of that other Privateer in the Baltic in April, 1950.

For "moral reasons"—after these "baffling and distressing accidents"—Patrol Squadron Nine has been grounded at its base somewhere in Alaska's western fringes. A naval board of inquiry will check and double check possible sources of failure in planes and crew.

Even if sabotage and enemy attack can be ruled out, it's not so easy to rule out the rigors of the climate, the strain of those long grinds out and back, or the dullness of life on the ground.

INHALING VITAMINS

Despite the lush claims of advertising writers, few persons have labored under the illusion that cigarettes could cure anything, or that a pack a day could put roses in one's cheeks.

Many will be startled to learn they have been inhaling a drug store full of vitamins every year. According to a series of papers read at a meeting of the American Chemical Society, tobacco contains at least four B vitamins. It is one of the richest of all plants in nicotinic acid which is the vitamin that cures pellagra.

And as for nicotine, which is the devil in the weed, one chemist reported that 85 per cent of the nicotine smokers inhale is quickly made harmless by the body.

Perhaps a new slogan for cigarettes will soon appear in the ads: "Four vitamins with each drag."

Elizabeth and Philip Termed Ideal Couple

House more than a year after their marriage. Like many post-war young husbands, Philip had to live for a while with his "in-laws." King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth.

Clarence House is a cream-painted stone house described by a Buckingham Palace spokesman as "of normal London town-house size with only one drawing room." It was built in 1825 for the Duke of Clarence, who later became King William IV., and is situated not far from Buckingham Palace.

Elizabeth and Philip have a combined income of $140,000 a year. The Princess receives a state allowance of $112,000 and her husband gets $28,000.

In addition, the Prince draws $4.25 a day as a lieutenant commander in the Royal Navy, along with $2.00 a day marriage allowance.

Elizabeth also is entitled to draw 70 cents a day for her second child under Socialist Britain's national insurance scheme—but she doesn't. She was presented with the usual child's ration book, a bottle of orange juice and a bottle of cod liver oil when each of her two children was born.

The children never are far from Elizabeth's mind.

Shown about a model home in London, she glanced around and said:

"It's very nice, but where does the baby-carriage go?"

Her eldest child, Prince Charles, is now three and has just outgrown a great taste for soap. He still uses his hand to wipe his nose, when no body is looking.

An energetic boy, he is one of London's most ardent sightseers. Ceremonial soldiers and martial music fascinate him. He is always on the wall of Clarence House when parades go by.

Afterwards he imitates the drummers by banging an old kettle with a soup spoon. He also recites marching rhymes and dances something that looks like a Highland fling.

"Bonny Prince Charlie" often takes excursions into the park. The future King's state procession usually consists of a baby-carriage carrying his younger sister, Anne, two nurses, a dog, a detective and a push-chair in case his royal highness gets tired of walking.

Charles adores his golden-haired one-year-old sister. He once ran up to a startled policeman in the park, grabbed him by the hand and urged him to "come and see Anne."

He gets into the usual boyish mischief and "can get as black as any boy his age in a much shorter time," according to his grandmother, Queen Elizabeth. She also said of Charles:

"We are all kept lively by him. He is into everything."

Elizabeth and Philip are as proud as any parents over their children and they don't care when it shows.

After the birth of Prince Charles, they once spent an hour trying to pick the prize float during a carnival in Hyde Park. They couldn't make up their minds.

"What shall we do?" asked Elizabeth.

"I don't know," said Philip.

"They're all good. Let's toss for it."

"Oh, we can't do that," said the Princess.

"Well, then," said Philip, "let's pick that one."

He pointed to a float entitled "Our Charlie."

The Princess laughed but agreed.

When Charles was born, Philip paced the floor like any other first-time papa. Nervous and worried, wearing slacks and an open-necked shirt, he puffed cigarettes, picked up newspaper, put them down, open and shut the piano lid.

Queen Elizabeth finally made him go out and play squash to while away the time.

After the birth, still in slacks and shirt and with his hair standing on end, Philip passed out cigars.

Six days later, he was caught trooping in the palace staff, five at a time, to see his new-born son.

The royal young couple like other people's kids, too. Philip is president of the National Playing Fields Association, which provides playgrounds for children all over the country. He has helped raise more than a million dollars for the Association and admitted in a speech that he "blackmailed a lot of people" into contributing.

Listening to the speech was crooner Frankie Sinatra. Before he could get away, Philip had buttonholed him—and the next thing Sinatra knew he had made a record which was sold to raise funds for the playgrounds.

At Manchester, Philip and Elizabeth were visiting an orphanage when an 8-year-old girl dodged the arms of authority and advanced on them with an autograph book.

Elizabeth looked helplessly at Philip.

"We're not allowed to give autographs," she reminded him.

"Aw, go on," said Philip. "We'll call it a visitors' book."

Any one who tries to "gate-crash" the couple in Washington may not find it so easy. It is part of the protocol surrounding members of the royal family that they are not to be directly approached

CIRCUS STARS ARE FROM 18 COUNTRIES

World's Largest Motorized Circus Coming To Bristol on Monday

BENEFIT OF CADETS

Selected international circus stars from 18 countries will join forces with the Bracken Post Drum and Bugle Corps to make Monday, Sept. 24, a memorable day.

That is circus day here, when the 1951 edition of Mills Brothers three-ring circus appears under the big top on behalf of the local organization's campaign to raise money to attend the national convention.

The circus, celebrating its 12th anniversary tour, will appear afternoon and night at the grounds located near route 13 and Green Lane. From billowing tents to performance headliners from France, Italy, England, Greece, Switzerland, Holland, and other foreign lands, as well as top American sawdustland talent, the circus is new and enlarged this year.

It is the world's largest motorized circus, the only one never showing Sundays, and the largest under canvas appearing exclusively for local organization raising funds, such as the cadets campaign here.

The Big Top Rhythmettes in two all-girl aerial extravaganzas, the Wallabies, English acrobats, Rickerts, Dutch juggling queens, Mlle. Ursula and La Lillan, Swiss and French artists spotlighted in glittering aerial ensembles, and equestriennes Jinx Adams and Margie Butcher provide beauty high spots for this year's spangleland edition.

The Antonettes, teeterboard titans; Joanids, Greek slack wire artists; the Valintinos, swinging high perch act; and the Flying La-Forms, French aerial gymnasts, top new importations added to the cast, making their first American tours. Nearly 40 tons of performing elephants, the major spectacle Argentine Holiday, dancing horses, circus concert band, Jack LaPearla's congress of clowns, Les Rosettas and the Bakers, and other American and Continental features also are being brought to town by the Drum and Bugle Corps.

Members of the sponsoring organization have advance tickets, from which come heaviest proceeds for the local fund campaign, on sale now.

Mrs. Viola Brodie, Pond street, is spending a few days with Mrs. Ella Vogel, Burlington, N. J.

2 Young Men Injured; 3 Cars, Ambulance Damaged

No. 27 and one tap of the alarm was sounded. This box will be out of order for 24 hours, Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman said today. A new box will have to be installed. The car came to a stop on the sidewalk on the northeast side of Bristol street.

Police and Bristol Blood Donors ambulance were summoned. The injured were taken to the Harri-man Hospital and then to Nazareth Hospital.

Officers Sackville and Farragall investigated. An ambulance of the Bucks County Rescue Squad was considerably damaged on the left side when it was involved in an accident with a passenger car on Bristol Pike, near Williams street, Cornwells Heights, yesterday shortly before noon.

According to State Police, Langhorne barracks, a car operated by George L. Read, Cornwells Heights, made a "U" turn on Bristol Pike, the two vehicles crashing. The ambulance was en route to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, to pick up a patient. Operating the ambulance was Neil Hepler, Oxford Valley road, he being accompanied by a squad nurse, Laura Roberts, Croydon. No one was injured, it is stated.

Read was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Committee on Health and Welfare is "Pace-Setter"

that "delinquency feeds on bad housing or inadequate housing; and on lack of recreation. We feel that the recreation phase is pretty important." "In the survey we are making, we are trying to find if the agencies contacted feel the need for a continuing process of coordination."

Stanley H. Renton and Peter B. Auerbach, Morrisville, chairman and secretary of the L. B. C. C., state that the organization they represent is engaged not only in pointing out need for study of the situation, but also in the necessary re-evaluation of the various agencies insofar as cooperation with others is concerned, not only on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware river, but also on the Trenton, N. J., side. They remind that because of the tie-in of political subdivisions there is a need for close cooperation between Bucks and Mercer (N. J.) counties in many phases.

The officials envision the committee as producing a survey and "starting the wheels in motion" for the necessary job to go through. The area comprises the boroughs of Yardley, Morrisville, Tullytown and Bristol; and townships of Falls, Lower Makefield and Bristol.

With lower Bucks County in transition from a semi-rural to an industrial community, many people have asked the question, "What are the present resources of lower Bucks county for meeting the health, welfare and recreational needs which now exist and those which will shortly develop?"

The Greater Morrisville Citizens Committee first appointed a sub-committee to study these problems. The Community Service Council of Bristol, the Bristol Township Civic Association, and the Falls Township Civic Association did the same. Cooperation was sought from representative citizens of Yardley, Lower Makefield township, and Tullytown, as well as from the Council of Social Agencies of Trenton. As a result, the Lower Bucks County Citizens Committee on Health and Welfare Needs was formed in August, with Mr. Renton as chairman, and the following vice-chairmen: Mrs. Aloph Ancker and John R. Stuetz, Bristol; Clayton W. Mills, of Yardley; John J. Appleyard, Falls township; Robert E. Anderson, Lower Makefield township; Henry Below, Falls township; and Wilmer Anderson, Tullytown. Peter B. Auerbach is secretary.

As a first step, the citizens committee secured the help of the United Council of Defense Services, which is a survey organization supported by the Community Chests of the whole country. Mrs. Irene F. Conrad, of the New York (N. Y.) office of the U. C. D. S., has been of great help to the committee, it is stated.

As a second step, the committee made a preliminary survey which produced the names of about 50 social agencies now operating in the area from Yardley to Bristol, inclusive, if certain county and state-wide organizations are included.

As a third step, the committee met on three successive evenings, September 11, 12 and 13, with representatives of these 50 health, welfare and recreation organizations, each of which agreed to supply the committee with information as to its own activities.

The fourth step will be to analyze the information which these questionnaires produce.

The fifth step will be to secure the advice of the United Community Defense Services, regarding the adequacy of the present coverage by these 50 organizations of the whole health, welfare and recreation field, in lower Bucks County, and as to what additional services will be needed to meet the problems which will be present when the expected influx of new residents reaches full tide.

The sixth step will be to confer with different local organizations as to how best to meet the new demands on them which can now be foreseen.

The chairman of the Citizens Committee, Mr. Renton, is chairman of the board of Vulcanized Rubber and Plastics Co., Morrisville. He states that he and his company are vitally concerned with this health, welfare and recreation problem, and that the citizens committee is considering it from the standpoint of the needs of the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware river.

He does not claim to know what the answers will be. These must develop as the facts develop—"and each Bucks County social service organization must decide for itself as to how it will meet its own, special problems."

"For the present, we need to know what are the present social service resources of lower Bucks County, and what expansion will be needed to meet the urgent problems created by the coming of industry in a big way," adds Mr. Renton. "The United Community Defense Services is a high-grade, impartial organization, with great experience in the problems of critical defense areas. Their advice should be of real help to lower Bucks County in solving these questions which are so new to most of us."

Mr. Auerbach points out that "Three out of four of the heads of families in Morrisville and Yardley area, as well as in Falls township, work in Trenton. Here is seen a close economic tie-up between two areas in two different states."

In order that the public might have a better over-all picture of the project, a review would show that three meetings were called in Morrisville in August—one with Red Cross, Family Services and similar organizations interested in welfare work; another with health services to the fore, including boards of health, ambulance corps, nurses associations, etc.; and the third stressed recreation, with playground, Boy Scout, midget baseball and park groups gathering. State and county agencies were likewise called into the conferences. "It was mainly concern over health and welfare needs of lower Bucks County which led to the movement," Mr. Renton advises. He and Mr. Auerbach, who is also director of the Council of Social Agencies in Trenton, have been working closely together on the project.

Information gathered from the questionnaires is to be kept strictly confidential, it is stated. The queries include those regarding service boundaries, policies, membership and officers, purpose for which organized, limitations on services, information on 1950 annual report, anticipated need for next 18 months, etc. One question is "Do you feel the need for a permanent planning organization in the health, welfare and recreation fields in this area?"

Welcome New Members At Voters' Membership Tea

NEWTOWN, Sept. 21—New members welcomed at the membership tea of the League of Women Voters, Tuesday afternoon at Neshaminy Farms, the home of Mrs. Roland W. Porter, included Mrs. James Frank, Mrs. William S. Kenderline, Mrs. Thomas J. Flanagan, Mrs. Edward Thode and Mrs. Harvey Buckman.

Mrs. Porter had charge of the "Know Your Town" forum. Mrs. Marion Elwell presented for Mrs. Ernest Seegars her coverage of public welfare, here, in which she explained the various phases of that work.

Mrs. Robert Titlow presented "What Form of Government Do You Have?" and explained the set-up of Newtown borough council.

Mrs. John Chambers, "Health and Sanitation," explained the need for a nursing service for Bucks county, and voiced the opinion that the influx into the county will perhaps be the means of bringing adequate nursing and public health service. Mrs. Chambers mentioned the work of the tuberculosis clinic, including chest X-rays, medical check-up in the schools, and milk and cattle inspections. She stated that now is the opportunity for the League of Women Voters to back the health laws. Two bills now pending are (1) to allow the county to have a board of health; (2) to have civil service for the health personnel, since 90 per cent of the health personnel at the present time are political appointees.

Mrs. John Hollister on "Education," explained consolidation of Council Rock School system, which is made up of Newtown borough, Newtown township, Wrightstown, Northampton and Upper Makefield townships.

Mrs. Porter explained the recreation work here, and what is anticipated for the Neshaminy Valley Youth Center, whose board is made up of representatives of 12 of the town's organizations and 19 members from the community at large. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Robert Biddle, 3rd, president, who announced Mrs. John Walker as the new secretary to replace Miss Bertha Ernest, who has moved.

A study group on inflation will be conducted mornings during the month of October under direction of Mrs. Robert Titlow, Mrs. Eugene Robertson and Mrs. John Chambers. October 24th is United Nations day and the League will have a display in one of the windows in town appropriate for the occasion, at which time the U. N. cookbooks will be for sale.

Tea was served, Mrs. Porter being assisted by the Misses Maude and Mary Corbett, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. Stanley Blinn and Mrs. Howard Buckman.

The Rev. Stanley A. Powell, Jr., Rector of Christ P. E. Church, Eddington. Vicar of St. Paul's P. E. Church, Edgely.

"And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified Him

Each Friday Christians are confronted with the cross on which Jesus the Christ was crucified, suffered and died. Each Friday is a kind of commemoration of the mighty act of God which enabled all men to be saved. So the week becomes a kind of pilgrimage with Friday as the day of crucifixion — the day of the crucifix. It is only through Friday that we can come to thoroughly understand Sunday, the day of the resurrection.

So on Friday, it is appropriate for Christians to dedicate themselves to the cross, to undertake the suffering which God sends to us, remembering that to suffer and to die is the greatest of Christian callings.

O Saviour of the world who by the cross and precious blood hath redeemed us, save us and help us we humbly beseech Thee O Lord. Amen.

GAY '90'S PAGEANT

James C. Sutton, 131 Mill street, and his 1910 Regal Underslung will be part of the 1951 Glidden Tour of antique automobiles driving to Bedford Springs Hotel, Bedford, for the three day "gay nineties" pageant to be staged at the hotel September 24-27 as the feature of this year's tour.

The 350 persons and 150 antique automobiles from all over the country taking part in the tour will be honored by Bedford Springs Hotel with a spectacular series of "gay nineties" events including a "gay nineties" ball, old-fashioned New England clam bake, Gibson girl fashion show, outdoor band concert, swimming carnival, exhibits and parades of the old-time automobiles, an old-time kicker's handicap in golf and many more events reminiscent of the turn of the century.

The entire hotel staff and all the guests will be attired in the fashion of that colorful day, complete with handlebar mustaches, wasp waists and feather boas, and will celebrate the event in a setting of elaborate decorations, posters, festoons, and activities appropriate to the glittering "gay nineties."

The 1951 Glidden Tour is under sponsorship of the Antique Automobile Club of America.

Participants of the Tour from all over the country will spend September 24-27 at the hotel. borne, is a Lower Bucks League affair.

This afternoon, St. Francis Vocational School and Council Rock will clash at Newtown. It will be the season's opener for Council Rock while St. Francis will be playing its second game, losing to Pennsylvania last Saturday. Game will begin at three o'clock.

Tonight, under the lights on Playwick field, Langhorne, at eight o'clock, Neshaun and Pennsylvania will pry off the lid of the Lower Bucks League season.

It will be Coach Egli's first game of the 1951 season while Pennsylvania scored a 12-6 triumph over St. Francis last week. Granny Mayo and Jack Sands, Falcons' backs, will be in action against Neshaun. They missed the St. Francis game due to injuries.

Also under the lights at Sellersville tonight, the Bensalem Owls will be playing their first game against Sellersville-Perkasie of the Bux-Mont League. It will be the initial tilt of the season for Bensalem while Sellersville-Perkasie crushed Pennsylvania last week. Coach Marlon VanHorn, of the Owls, has been forced to practically mould a new team.

Tomorrow afternoon, two contests are listed. Bristol High will travel to Palmyra to play the school of that place. Palmyra replaced Trenton Catholic on the local schedule. Last Saturday, Bristol lost its opener to Hathboro High, 14-6. Coach "Chick" D'Angelo spent this week in ironing out the details of the Hathboro contest.

Morrisville High, under Coach Gordon Davies, will play Hamilton High on the latter's gridiron.

DELHAAS LOSES OPENING GAME TO BORDENTOWN

Delhaas High lost its opening game of the season yesterday when Bordentown Manual Training School Junior Varsity scored a touchdown in the third quarter to defeat the township boys, 6-2, on the losers' field.

It was a well-played tilt with most of the game being played at mid-field. The Jersey team scored six first downs while Delhaas had three.

Manual scored after recovering a fumble on the 25-yard line. West had punted to Francis Osbourne. The latter fumbled with King recovering for Manual. A series of plays, mostly end runs, put the ball on the one-yard line from where Ray took it over for Manual. A pass try for the extra point failed.

Delhaas scored its safety in the last quarter. Manual had the ball on the 10 yard line and attempted to pass. Donald Turner broke through and tackled Scott beyond the goal line for the 2 points. Delhaas lost its best opportunity following the safety kickoff when it fumbled the ball.

Outstanding in the line for the Delhaas team were Bob Morris and Turner while in the backfield, George Manley did some nice playing.
